

DO YOU HAVE A HEARING LOSS?

TAKE THIS SIMPLE QUIZ.

If you say yes to three or more of the following questions you may have already experienced some degree of loss.

- Do I need people to speak slowly in order to understand them?
- Can I participate better in conversation when I can see a person's lips?
- Do I often ask people to speak up or repeat what they have said?
- When conversing on the phone, do I miss parts of words or sentences?
- Do I have trouble hearing the TV at a volume level others a comfortable with?
- Do my family members complain that I turn the radio or music up too loud?
- Do I avoid social situations or family gatherings because it is hard to understand others in large groups?
- Am I missing calls or visitors because I don't hear the phone or doorbell ring?
- In the car, do I turn my head to look at the person who is talking?